

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A system and method for reducing idle times of a vehicle wherein circuitry determines whether a vehicle is occupied and upon detection that the vehicle is occupied, disabling a timer that generates a signal to shut off an engine of the vehicle.